ILTA Training Seminar: OSHA Recordkeeping Workshop

Wednesday, September 15, 2010

12:00 p.m. – 5:00 p.m.

A good working knowledge of OSHA's recordkeeping requirements is essential to building a solid foundation for a successful, well-managed safety program. During this half-day training, attendees will learn how to apply the OSHA recordkeeping rules and gain an understanding of the latest recordkeeping interpretations. An analysis of scenarios that illustrate the application of the recordkeeping regulations will be included. The course will be led by Neil Wasser of Constangy, Brooks & Smith, LLP, a law firm representing management in labor and employment matters since 1946.

This ILTA-sponsored seminar is ideal as an introduction for those new to OSHA recordkeeping or as a refresher for those who are responsible for a company's recordkeeping. Safety and health managers, company record keepers, terminal managers, and human resource professionals are encouraged to attend. Lunch is included.

Registration Fee: $250

HOTEL ACCOMMODATIONS:

To make your reservation, call the hotel toll free at (800) 228-9290 or (312) 836-0100. The ILTA group rate is $189/night plus tax. The deadline for the group rate is Wednesday, September 1, 2010. After this date, the group rate may not be available. Due to a large convention in Chicago, there is a shortage of downtown hotel rooms during this week. Very few rooms remain available at the hotel for Tuesday night, September 14. As an alternative, ILTA has reserved a small block of rooms at the Courtyard by Marriott, located within walking distance of the Marriott. The ILTA rate is $279 for Tuesday night only. For reservations at the Courtyard by Marriott, call (312) 573-0800.

Please fax your completed registration form to ILTA at 202-326-8660.
Online registration is available on ILTA's website at www.ilta.org.
